
Wow, Custom 3D Avatars are hot!

Posted by joerinehart - 2008/07/09 12:13

I was just tweaking the site for prime time and it appears that during the beta development period over 50 people signed up and registered with the site and forums without an invitation or announcement!

I've worked on many web projects before but this one really has me excited! The energy that Avatar Studio and the web team put into the project is evident by the initial results of the beta development stage.

During the development period I watched the page rank hit a 4 and the site rank raise past 16,000,000 other web sites! It really doesn't surprise me much because, where else can one find the ability to create a custom 3D avatar made of you or your children?

Well I'm off to order my 3D avatar from Avatar Studio so I can get a free one for my facebook and MySpace accounts!

Enjoy, and as always...
Best 'net regards,

Joe

Update: Over three hundred additional people have registered for the AvatarStudio.com site for information about getting custom 3D avatars during it's early working release phrase! We have learned that a two step order process of registering and then uploading the front and side photos is causing some confusion.

The Avatar Studio technical staff is currently in the process of developing a one step order process to make it easier for everyone that wants a custom made 3D avatar. In the meantime, if you have any questions or comments, please feel free to use the contact form to get the answers.

Also, of worthy note is that during the initial release of the working Avatar Studio custom 3D avatar web site now has thousands of people visiting monthly. Every single Avatar Studio custom 3D avatar page, excepting one also enjoys a respectable page rank of at least a three.

We encourage you to register with the AvatarStudio.com web site to keep up to date with the custom 3D avatars being offered by Avatar Studio. You may also wish to subscribe to our RSS feed for the most current news being released from our growing in popularity custom 3D avatar web site.

Thank you for your consideration!
